DRINK LIKE A LOCAL

Whether it's a party night or a break from the usual big city nightlife, The Heights offers a mix of options to wet your whistle. Kick back with jukebox tunes and craft beer at D&T Drive Inn. Sip classic cocktails at the retro-cool EZ's Liquor Lounge, or unwind on the patio at the stylish Heights & Co.

For wine lovers, Mutiny Wine Room is just around the corner. Bobcat Teddy's delivers laid-back vibes with a big patio and ice-cold drinks.

GREENSPACE GALORE

This area doesn't mess around when it comes to green space. Montie Beach Park is Brooke Smith's go-to neighborhood spot, with a splash pad, open green fields, tennis courts, and sports areas—all connected to nearby hike and bike trails. Also nearby are Woodland Park, Moody Park, and the many green spaces cared for by the Houston Heights Association.

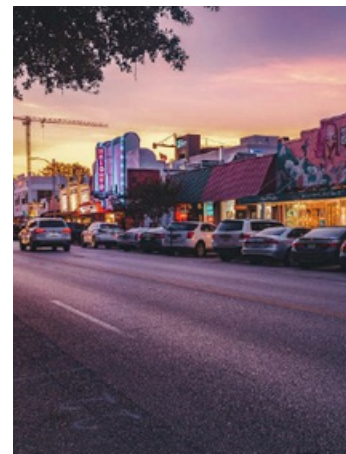

A smaller trail along Little White Oak Bayou runs parallel to I-45, linking local neighborhoods to the Heights and the bike-friendly lanes along Cavalcade.

LIVE ENTERTAINMENT

If you're looking for live entertainment in and around the Heights, White Oak Music Hall, Heights Theater, and Gavanna Nightclub are top choices. From nationally touring acts to local standouts, these venues offer something for every vibe. White Oak spans five indoor/outdoor acres with three stages, while Heights Theater delivers a more intimate, historic concert experience.

For late-night energy, Gavanna brings a sleek club atmosphere with DJ sets and dancing that go well past midnight.

19TH STREET

19th Street hits the sweet spot between classic Heights charm and fresh energy. Grab a seat at Agnes and Sherman, flip through vinyl at Vinal Edge, stock up on rugged essentials at Manready Mercantile, or grab toys that don't suck at Big Blue Whale. Cutthroat Barber keeps it sharp, and Jeni's Splendid Ice Creams wraps it up with a cold, perfect finish.

ART & CULTURE

Just a short drive from the Heights, some of Houston's most inspiring cultural institutions await. The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston (MFAH) anchors the city's art scene with a vast and diverse collection spanning centuries and continents. Nearby, the Menil Collection offers a quieter, more contemplative experience, surrounded by green lawns and dotted with galleries, including the world-renowned Rothko Chapel.

Closer to home, Opera in the Heights brings classic and contemporary opera to life in the intimate and historic Lambert Hall—right in the heart of the neighborhood.

MUSIC VENUES

713 Music Hall, located in the POST Houston complex, is a sleek, state-of-the-art venue that hosts national tours, iconic artists, and high-production shows in a 5,000+ capacity space. It's one of the city's newest major venues and a go-to for big nights out in a reimaged industrial space just minutes from the Heights.

White Oak Music Hall, or "WOMH" is a multi-stage live music venue just two miles north of downtown on the edge of the Heights. Hosting over 400 shows a year, WOMH brings in acts from across genres—rock, country, indie, hip-hop, and more.

ART EXPERIENCES

POST Houston is one of the city's most exciting creative hubs—a former post office transformed into a multi-level space packed with food vendors, rooftop views, and art-forward experiences. Inside, Art Club showcases immersive installations and rotating exhibits that blur the line between gallery and playground.

Across town in the Fifth Ward, Meow Wolf Houston delivers a full-sensory deep dive into surreal environments, storytelling, and interactive art. It's an unforgettable, mind-bending experience—and a must for anyone craving something way outside the ordinary.

SPORTS & STADIUMS

Heights House sits just a few miles north of downtown, perfectly positioned for catching a game or show. Within minutes, you can be at Toyota Center, home to the Houston Rockets and a top stop for concerts and major touring acts; Shell Energy Stadium (formerly BBVA), where Houston Dynamo and Dash fans bring the energy; or Daikin Park, the ballpark hosting your Houston Astros.

Whether you're in it for the sports, the spectacle, or just a great night out, the action is always close by.
